News from the Dean

This issue of the Alumni Newsletter carries news of exhilarating developments at the College. I direct your attention to those items.

The excitement about being able to proceed with the Library Addition is exceeded only by our need for the space. We would not have progressed as far without the patient understanding of a number of persons. Among them are our alumni who are in the Legislature. Senator Ken Jennings and Representatives Peter M. Dunbar, Curtis Kiser, Christian Medford, George H. Sheldon and James Harold Thompson listened carefully to our case for the building addition and gave us their enthusiastic support. Representative Herbert F. Morgan serves a special thanks for his support. With the legislative appropriation, we will be able to build a three-story addition which will accommodate up to 250,000 hard bound volumes; about double our current hard bound collection. Equally important, we will be able to renovate spaces in B. K. Roberts Hall, abandoned by the Library, to create new faculty and student offices and needed classroom space. At this writing, the architectural work has progressed to the advanced schematic stage. In a subsequent addition of this newsletter, we hope to furnish you with drawings of the new building and the planned renovation.

The items concerning the Mason Ladd Memorial Lectures, Class Reunions, new Faculty members, and faculty activities are, I hope, especially noteworthy. The appointment of Dean Pat Russo signals a commitment to improve and increase communications with Law School graduates.

Mr. F. William McAlpin, Chairman of the Federal Legal Services Corporation, was the guest speaker at the June 1981 Commencement Exercises of the College of Law. Ninety-five members of the June class participated in the ceremony in Opperman Music Hall on Saturday, June 13, at 11:00 a.m. Following the graduation exercises, graduates, families and friends were entertained at a reception held on the west lawn of the Law School Building.

Mason Ladd Memorial Lecture Series, October 15-16

The College of Law is happy to announce the creation of the Mason Ladd Memorial Lecture series. Created to memorialize the first Dean of this College, public lectures will be scheduled annually and will address those subjects especially important to Dean Ladd: Evidence, Civil Procedure, The Legal Profession, and Legal Education. The College will cause to be produced in hard bound copy the text of the lectures. Royalties from the sale of these books plus private contributions will be used to fund the lecture series.

Professor Ronald Carlson of the Washington University School of Law, co-author with Dean Ladd of Cases and Materials on Evidence, will be the first lecturer in the series. Pro-

Little, Shapiro Win NAAC Competition

John Little and Ron Shapiro, third-year students at the College, won the National Appellate Advocacy Competition (NAAC) held in New Orleans, August 6-9. The competition, sponsored by the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association, pitted the FSU team against 18 other regional winners.

Little and Shapiro were the only undefeated team in the competition, which involved a public sector labor problem. They also took the prize for best brief.

Coached by Professor Patricia Dore, the FSU team beat Harvard in the semi-finals and Illinois Institute of Technology Chicago-Kent in the finals. Professor Dore also coached the team that won the national championship in San Francisco last summer. It

Professor Carlson, a distinguished professor, is the author of four books and numerous professional articles. He has taught at the University of Texas, the University of Iowa and Wayne State University. Trial judges and trial practitioners know Professor Carlson as one of the lively and informative Evidence lecturers at CLE programs.

The lectures will be open to the public, and special invitations will be extended to the graduates of the three classes admitted by Dean Ladd: 1969, 1970 and 1971. This year's lectures are scheduled for October 15 and 16. In addition, a Reunion Banquet will be held on Saturday, October 17 at which Professors Carlson, Ehrhardt and others will reminisce about Dean Ladd.

College Receives $4,326,000 Appropriation From '81 Legislature for Library Addition

During the 1981 Session of the Legislature, the College received an appropriation of $4,326,000 for Law Library construction and remodeling. This sum, added to the $674,000 appropriated by the 1980 Session of the Legislature, gives us the opportunity to add a much needed Library Addition to the College of Law. The firm of Sheppard and Associates of Jacksonville, Florida has presented to the University and the College's Building and Space Committee advanced schematics for the three-floor Library Addition. The design contemplates joining the new addition and B. K. Roberts Hall at the second-floor and third-floor levels. The net square footage will permit us to double the current hard bound volume collection. At a subsequent time, drawings and pictures will be furnished you so that you can share in the excitement.

In his open letter to the Alumni, the Dean gives special thanks to those alumni who are members of the Legislature, and who worked with the College to secure the Legislative appropriation. The matter is important enough to say again: special thanks to Senator Kenneth C. Jenne and Representatives Peter M. Dunbar, S. Curtis Kiser, Christian Medford, George H. Sheldon and James Harold Thompson. Representative Herbert F. Morgan of Tallahassee was, also, significantly supportive.

I want to thank, once again, those graduates and friends who responded to the College's appeal for contributed funds. These funds permit us to render financial assistance to our students with established needs, support faculty travel and research, and do the many little, but expensive, things that make this an improving professional College.

I send for myself and the faculty our warmest greetings to each of you and say, again, that if you are near the College, we hope you will come by and visit with us.

Finally, I have truly enjoyed my first year at F.S.U. Many of you have contributed to that enjoyment. We are working to make you proud of this College. The dynamic which you provide will not permit us to do otherwise.

Reunion Banquet Set for October 17

In conjunction with the Mason Ladd Memorial Lectures, the College is planning a Reunion Banquet for the classes admitted during Dean Ladd's tenure: 1968 (December), 1969, 1970 and 1971 (through August). The Banquet is scheduled for Saturday, October 17th at the Hilton Hotel. A Sherry-Champagne Party at Longmire Lounge will precede the Banquet from 4:30 to 6:30 P.M. Members of the classes are urged to mark their calendars now so that they can participate in this event which signals a milestone in the College's development.

Who's an Alumnus?

It has been brought to the College's attention that a few of our alumni are somewhat concerned by our use of "Dear Alumnus" when addressing them in a letter. Upon study, we have found that the term "alumnus" does not have either male or female gender. For those of you who have been concerned over our terminology, we have compiled the following: Alumnus—singular (both sexes); alumni—plural (both sexes); alumna—singular female; alumnae—plural female; and alums—group of alums.

The Moot Court champs after their return from the NAAC Competition in New Orleans, more street-wise, confident and self-assured as a result of their victory. (l to r) John Little, Coach Patricia Dore and Ron Shapiro.

is extremely rare that one coach has been involved in a national championship for two consecutive years.

One hundred twenty-four teams across the country began the competition in March and April 1981 when the regionals were held. The FSU team was 1 of the 19 teams which were chosen to advance to the nationals in New Orleans. Briefs, written after the regionals, were submitted to a panel of appellate court judges and experts in the labor field who were selected by the NAAC Committee.

Special congratulations to Ron, John and Professor Dore. The College is extremely proud of their victory!

Review Converts to New Transmission Technology

The Review is well on its way to becoming an innovator in publication production. The College's word processor was recently updated to Exxon's most advanced model, the Vydec 1800 text editor, which includes program diskettes for records processing, document assembly, global search and replace, and many other features to economize time and cost in the production cycle. In addition, the telecommunication / computer batch interface setup has been successfully tested with both Exxon corporate headquarters and Darby Printing Company.

In April 1981, the Review's editorial assistant, Debbie Winter, traveled to Darby Printing Company in Atlanta for training in the computer coding system necessary to transmit copy compatible and ready for the printer's computer typesetter. The Review will be the first of over 104 law reviews printed by Darby to use telecommunications to transmit copy. Both Darby and the Review are enthusiastic about this innovation and anticipate success.

In preparation for converting to the new transmission mode, the Review has scrutinized and revamped the production cycle to best take advantage of the new technology, yet maintain the integrity of the editorial process. The staff manual has also been revised considerably to reflect these improvements and new information. The membership has undergone training to prepare them for the new system.

The first issue to be generated using telecommunications will be 9:3, projected to be available October 1981. The Review looks forward to the cost and time reductions the new system will provide.

Placement Office

With the Fall '81 Interviewing Season just around the corner, 2nd- and 3rd-year students are beginning to get a taste of what finding a job is all about. Monday, September 14, marks the beginning of the interviewing season, and it promises to be a busy schedule.

In preparation, students groom themselves as well as their resumes in order to begin their job search. After receiving the Placement Office Information Packet, they should have a clear picture of what on-campus interviews will entail: critiquing resumes, attending an Interviewing Workshop, doing their homework on firms conducting on-campus interviews, etc.

At this time, the Placement Office has received confirmations from 50 prospective employers and it is likely the calendar will continue to fill up as the fall semester approaches. Among the firms scheduled to visit the law school are Cummings & Lockwood, Stamford, CT, and Hodgson, Russ, Andrews, Woods & Goodyear, Brooklyn, N.Y. Firms from Atlanta will also be interviewing F.S.U.'s law students. These firms include: Fisher & Phillips; Altman, Kritzer & Levick, P.C.;
